A unique day out at the world-famous Jodrell Bank, home of the impressive Lovell Telescope. At almost 90m tall this radio telescope stands proud on the Cheshire landscape as a symbol of British science and engineering. Nothing compares to seeing this giant structure up close.

It is a particularly special year as they are celebrating 75 years of Science and we will have the opportunity to see a film based on this.

After the closing date if spaces are available partners and non-members could join us at a cost of £25 plus admission.
